

I think if you treat VOIP over WiFi like a phone service by requiring location based tracking, you should not be allowed to also deregulate DSL.